

Biffy Clyro Arena Tour 2013

• "Opposites" Tour + Tree Structure

Biffy Clyro is a trio from Scotland. In its UK arena tour, the trio played 11 shows, in support of their new album Opposites around the country, kicking off at Newcastle Metro Radio Arena 20, expanding to Cardiff, Manchester, Glasgow etc, and finishing up at London O2 Arena.

Production designer Misty Buckley designed a mind blowing stage for Biffy Clyro that drew inspiration from the front cover of the band's new album—a symbol of growth and a twist of a tree. Buckley took a further step on the tree structure and created the internal human body details with skeletons and organs. Buckley revealed the heart and soul of the band with a sculptural representation of Da Vinci's anatomical drawings. The set was like a human structure background and with a huge screen behind, served as an incredible tool to tell stories about the evolution so apparent in the album, the individuals and, ultimately, the show.
